SAA Elects Hedvig Hogg As Chairman

Temporary Head Chosen First President

Hedvig C. Hogg '45, was last week selected to continue on a permanent basis, her duties as chair of the Student Action Assembly. Miss Hogg has been serving as temporary chairman of the group ever since its inception last December.

Selection of the chairman was made by the newly-chosen permanent executive committee of the assembly, which was chosen previously from the four activity groups of the assembly. Miss Hogg was herself a member of this executive board in the capacity of chairman of the committee on contacts. She had replaced John Kalajain '43, who has been called to active service with the Army Air Corps.

Vacancy Created

With the elevation of Miss Hogg to the chairmanship of the entire assembly, another vacancy was created on the executive committee. This position, the chairmanship of the contacts committee is expected to be filled at a special election to be held in the near future. It is probable that an election will also have to be held to choose a replacement for David M. Otis '45, executive representative from the publicity committee. Otis has received his draft notice, and will be expected to leave school within a few weeks.

Studies Group Begins Tonight

DeLanux, Bronner To Open Studies With Talks

With two brief speeches by Prof. Pierre deLanux and Edwin M. Bronner, '46, the newly formed Middlebury Studies group will be under way tonight at 7:30 p. m., in Munroe auditorium.

Prof. deLanux will present one of the plans that has been offered throughtout this country for the subsidization of art and the artists themselves. An artist cannot earn enough now to prevent him from starving since there is not a great demand for paintings at this time.

Artists

It is proposed to find some other part time position that would enable the artist to have another trade and still have free time to practice his art. This plan would relieve the tension which the artist is under when he can't find a market for his work immediately.

Edwin Bronner will tell about the founding of the Federal Arts project that attempted to relieve jobless artists and stimulate talented persons, and the reason for its failure.

The steering committee, composed of presidents of the various clubs around the campus, has the job of directing the lecture-discussion group. Prof. Claude L. Bourcier has been chosen as faculty adviser.

At each meeting it has been decided to have either two or three brief speeches followed by an open discussion. Since most of the students preferred to have faculty members as speakers, the students' greatest participation will come during the discussions and the planning of programs.

Wheaton and Monk Assume Leadership of CAMPUS

Broadbent Becomes Managing Editor; Three Positions Filled on Business Staff

Ruth R. Wheaton, '44, will replace J. Allan Robinson, '44, as editor-in-chief of the CAMPUS, and Ingrid H. Monk, '44, will take over John H. Stetson's, '44, job as business manager when the two men go into the Army Air Corps next week.

Other changes which have come about in the editorial staff will move Elizabeth M. Broadbent, '44, to the position of managing editor, left vacant when Miss Wheaton becomes editor. Peter S. Jennison, '44, will retain the post of associate editor which he and Miss Broadbent formerly shared.

Business Staff

The business staff has also undergone considerable change, with Mary D. Sparks, '44, moving in to fill the post of advertising manager, formerly occupied by Miss Monw, Paula G. Knight, '45, replacing Robin R. Willits, '44, as assistant manager, and Nancy L. Rogers, '45, replacing William R. Johnson, '43, as assistant business manager.

Sophomore members of the news staff, Clifford R. Hendrix, '45, Roy Kinsey, '45, Ruth L. Collins, '45, Ruth Strode, '45, and Ruth Taylor, '45, will take examinations for positions as assistant editors in the near future. Additional tryouts for the news staff are now attending lectures in preparation for tests to be given sometime next month.

Second Woman Editor

Elaine B. Herron, '43, became editor-in-chief of the CAMPUS when Roger L. Easton, last year's editor, graduated at the end of first semester, making her the first woman in charge of the college newspaper. Miss Wheaton will be the second woman in charge of the paper in Middlebury history.

Pending further calls for reserves, the positions on the editorial and business staffs will remain the same.

Morehouse and Von Thurn Reign As King and Queen Over Carnival

Ski Contests Held; Gale Triumphs In Downhill

A well-balanced University of New Hampshire skiing team won the Middlebury Carnival Ski meet handily last week-end, defeating Dartmouth by ten points. The winners took first places in the team totals for cross country, jumping and the combined for these events. The Panther skiers, led by Captain Johnny Gale, Bobo Sheehan, and Phil Dunham, came in fourth behind Norwich. Williams and Vermont trailed Midd to complete the team scoring.

Johnny Gale

Midd's single team and individual win was in the downhill, first event of the meet. Johnny Gale flashed over the course a full second and a half ahead of Churchill of New Hampshire, and was followed by "Tink" Bailey in fifth and Cliff Hendrix in tenth, to give the Panthers the team leadership. "Moe" Distin of Dartmouth won the slalom, followed by Peck of Norwich and Bobo Sheehan of Midd. Norwich won the team slalom. Tinkham, Peck, and Beck of Norwich placed one, two and four in the combined slalom and downhill to give the Cadets a perfect score in this event. Sheehan took a third in the individual combined.

Wildcats

Ed Blood's Wildcats placed one, two, and three, Dunklee, Keough, and Merrill, in the cross country for a perfect team score, and this same trio placed fourth, fifth and sixth in the jumping to pace their team to a close victory here, too. Babe Sawyer of Norwich topped Midd's Phil Dunham for the individual honors in the jump. Bill Distin won the combined jump-cross country, but New Hampshire placed Merrill, Dunklee and Keough in the next three positions to have an almost perfect 99.59 team score in the combined.

Hardly a compliment to Queen Ibby is King Dick's sleepy countenance as they ride in state to their icy thrones to reign over the 1943 Winter Carnival.

Gold Cane, D. U. Win Top Honors For Sculptures

By Barbara A. Blair, '45.

The dismal heaps of gray slush which slump forlornly at various spots about the campus these days are all that remains of those titanic productions of collegiate cubists, the 1943 snow sculptures.

Fortunately for Carnival spi its, however, the thaw held off long enough for the judges to take an early morning squint at the sculptures on Friday and pronounce judgment. Only sufferers from the February heat wave were the Pi Phi's, whose Professor Brown on skis took an unfortunate tumble on the evening before the judging.

College Players Enact Comedy On Friday

KLONDIKE RUSH ENDS WEEKEND

King Richard S. Morehouse and Queen Elizabeth von Thurn in their coronation address proclaimed that books should be put aside and festivities should reign during the 1942 Winter Carnival. Taking them at their word the students of Middlebury and their guests spent three carefree days.

President Samuel S. Stratton opened the carnival by investing King Dick and Queen Ibby with the power of ruling over their subjects during the winter holidays. An ice pageant was put on for the amusement of the royal pair.

Skating Program

Of the varied skating program, the duet which Lois E. Groben '43 and J. Kedwick Thayer '43 skated highlighted the event. Two members of the C.A.A. presented a comedy act. Following the coronation the evening's entertainment was completed by dances at all the fraternity houses.

Early Friday morning the spectators trudged up to Chipman for the downhill race. There they saw Captain John S. Gale '43 win this event, and Middlebury nose out New Hampshire to take an early lead in the team standings. That afternoon the cross country was run. After this race the Middlebury Inn opened the ball room for informal dancing for the college students.

Carnival Play

"Out of the Frying Pan" by Francis Swann was the comedy which the Middlebury Players gave Friday night. Marjorie J. Jolivette '44 sang, Robert E. Seixas '46 performed some novelty numbers on the piano, and the Black Panther quintet played during the intermissions.

In spite of melting snow conditions, the slalom and the ski

Century Society Honors Bowlers; Five Girls Qualify

W. A. A. bowlers are knocking down the pins with a vengeance. To honor those who pile up a score of 100 or better, the Century Society has been formed. At present, out of the 93 girls in competition, only five have qualified for the honorary society.

Those initiate members are Ruth M. Kelly '43, with an even 100, Margery M. Miller '43, with 106, Dorothy E. Ayers '44, with 103, Althea Hall '44, with 106, and Joan A. Radcliff '44, with 106.

Bowling will continue until outdoor sports begin in the spring. The annual women's tournament will soon be run off. Also a mixed tournament with two couples on a team will be played if enough people show interest. Couples are asked to start the ball rolling by signing up soon.

Basketball

The freshmen A team is still in the lead of the basketball tournament, having had no defeats. February 15 they rolled over the junior A team, winning with a score of 37-10. Bess Barclay, a mainstay of the freshmen, piled up 18 points for high scoring. She is accustomed to make long overhead shots and if they miss to follow up with good lay up shots. The same day junior A defeated sophomore B 30-21. High scorers on both teams ran even with Rose Barruzzi shooting 14 for the juniors and Barbara Drury netting 15 for the sophomores.

February 17 the junior A and freshmen A played a closely contested game. The juniors were out to defeat the freshmen, but the freshmen, fighting hotly to defend their title, finally won, 39-34. Doris Orth and Lee Jenkins earned 15 and 14 points apiece for their team, but Bess Barclay held her honors alone, looping the ball through the hoop 15 times. The sophomore A downed the senior A, 33-6, on the same day.

"Out of the Frying Pan" Wins Plaudits of Capacity Audience

By Donald B. Strong '46

The thunderous applause received from a capacity audience at the high school gymnasium last Friday night by the cast of the annual winter carnival play "Out of the Frying Pan" has proclaimed it one of the laugh sensations of the college's stage history. Erie T. Volkert has again achieved a directing triumph; John H. Stetson '44 has followed up his clowning in "Warrior's Husband" by a masterly bit of comedy in his portrayal of George Bodell; and the construction, properties, make-up, costumes and lighting committees have again displayed their amazing versatility.

Too Much Laughter!

The most general adverse criticism to be made is that some of the speeches were lost entirely because of a failure of some of the characters to freeze their action. This is a rather serious mistake since the audience stops laughing before it wants to in order to hear the dialogue, thus creating a strained atmosphere.

In spite of harrowing experiences such as Stetson's contracting the measles and Janet E. Townsend's '45 losing her voice, the production was a smashing success. Perhaps the clowning glory of the entire play was achieved by Stetson in the scene in which he barges in at a most unfortunate time, prepares to take a bath, and in best stage tradition and technique appears in striped shorts to shock Mr. Coburn.

Lead Performances

Hedwig C. Hogg, '45 gave a very convincing performance as Dottie, the dumb but necessary member of the sextet renting the apartment. Her sweetheart in the play, Norman, alias Donald Y. Gilmore '45, also placed himself in the ranks of the successful. He didn't over-act and still didn't let the part slip into the realms of the obscure, although once or twice the peals of laughter from the audience did draw him out of character. Richard S. Morehouse '43 played his difficult, stiff part of Tony fairly well. He seemed to lack, however, a little feeling in his scenes with Miss Duffie. Janet Townsend and Nancy L. Duffie '45 were the perfect wholesome girls trying to crash the glamorized New York stage.

Minor Character

As for the minor characters, it's difficult to decide whether Eleanor M. Drake '45 as Muriel, John E. Unterecker '44 as Mr. Kenny, or Gladys J. Swift '46 as Mrs. Garnet gave the most convincing charactreization. All the secondary characters, however, were excellent and formed a splendid supporting cast.

An interesting musical interlude between the acts was provided by Marjorie J. Jolivette '44 singing "Where or When", a novelty and several boogy-woogy selections by Robert E. Seixas '46, and the Black Panther's newly reformed band playing "Stompin at the Savoy" and "Honeysuckle Rose." Katherine Kurtz, '43 acted as master-of-ceremonies for the between acts entertainment.

VOL. XL FEBRUARY 23, 1943 NO. 20

PREPARE TO TAKE OVER

If you women of Middlebury have been reading page two of the CAMPUS regularly, you may have noticed occasional articles there concerning wartime opportunities for women. The War Service Defense Council has presented details of female participation in the services. They have told you of courses offered to women in scientific and engineering fields.

Many of you may have been interested merely from the point of view of glamor. These openings are new and interesting, and they do have a glamorous appeal. But more than that, the very existence of these opportunities, the demands for women in government service, should bring home a realization of your growing responsibilities.

If these articles have not been adequate reminders, then the facts of the past week should certainly be an awakening to you. Your awareness of the national trend should be sharpened by the actualities here at Middlebury.

The population of the men's campus is dwindling rapidly with the call to service of the Air Corps reservists. Draft eligibles in the lower age-groups are leaving each week. It will be but a matter of months before a much larger group, the regular Enlisted Reserve Corps, will be called to service. Very soon now, the student responsibilities of the College will rest almost entirely with you.

With next week's issue of the CAMPUS, the administration and direction of this paper becomes a women's responsibility. Last week a woman was selected to become head of the increasingly important Student Action assembly. More and more, Middlebury becomes the Women's College of Middlebury. It is up to the women of Middlebury to realize that fact, and to become intelligently cognizant of their growing responsibilities.

THE BEST WITH WHAT WE'VE GOT

That blessing is very often the result of adversity is by no means a new or original observation. But this old truth was very adequately illustrated last Friday evening at the High School gymnasium.

The success of "Out of the Frying Pan" and its between-the-acts specialties was complete. Mr. Erie T. Volkert and his student actors injected a genuine stimulation to the Carnival spirit that was growing within us at that time. The whole program was refreshing.

The obvious aim of this editorial, aside from giving credit where credit is due, is to point out the folly of attempting to stage elaborate musical productions when adequate facilities and personnel and talent are lacking. It is understood that shortages of some sort or another were a factor in the decision not to present Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience."

We are a small school. Although our past attempts to approximate large college musical shows may have been commendable, this year's success in using our available facilities to the best advantage, if on a smaller scale, is more to be commended.

There is no harm in presenting a musical show for Carnival. Nor is there any good reason for not staging a student-written piece. On the other hand, either of these enterprises or a combination of the two, may require talents that are not normally found in a small-college drama department. If the composing skill and the talent are at hand, then a student-written musical show would be a grand undertaking.

And if such talent were not available, then we could do what we did this year,—the best we could with what we had. And that was plenty. It is so much more satisfying during Carnival time, to enjoy a performance, than it is to appreciate a fellow-student's efforts.

NOTICES

Second semester bills are due and payable on or before March 1st. If not paid, an extension form should be completed at the Dean's office by March 1st. Students failing to comply will be liable to suspension from classes.

Additional trainees will be recruited for the Air Traffic Control to begin training May 15, 1943. This news is of particular interest to senior women interested in flying because the two months' course begins after the date of graduation from Middlebury.

This course will make women eligible for work at Airway Control Center or Airport Traffic Control. Although assignments in this field are simple they are essential to the war industry and post war period. Salaries begin at $2,178 per year with chance for advancement with salaries ranging from $2,400 to $4,200.

Induction details are available from Miss Woolcott in Forest East.

MIDD BITS

What did someone say about measles at Carnival time? From what we heard, that was the reason that the Harvard ski team didn't show up for competition.

Rumor-spiking department: We hate to do it because it was such a nice Carnival story to talk about. It seems that the tale which went the rounds was that Jack Swanson, the students' friend, took one of his buddies up on a ten-dollar bet. The bets that Jack wouldn't make the Chipman jump on Saturday morning before the jumping competition. But he did, so the rumor goes. But that's all just so much scuttlebutt.

Now if a guy has to go and start a story like that, he ought to color it up. We'd like to know more about what would have happened to Jack on Saturday morning if we hadn't spiked this rumor.

If we had Winter Carnivals every week, this manpower shortage on the CAMPUS wouldn't bother us. Among the visitors to Middlebury's big week-end were Mal Freiberg '41, one-time managing editor, Dwight Frank Smith '42, the editor-in-chief of little more than a year ago, and Harry Rossi '42, last year's business manager.

And speaking of visitors, you may have noticed an Asiatic visage around the Deke house recently. It was probably Bob Adsit's guest, Guy Chang. Mr. Chang, who lives in Burlington, is a former member of the Chinese Davis Cup tennis team.

The sovereign rulers of Carnival were under critical surveillance this year, whether they knew it or not. Anyway, the most royal of our visiting alumni were Bob Anderson, veteran woodsman and president of the Mountain Club of 1940, and pretty Lois Gillette of the same class. This couple was paired up together three years ago as King and Queen of the 1940 Winter Carnival. Now deposed, ex-King Robert nevertheless sports a really royal goatee. Maybe you spotted it.

UVM and Midd To Meet Tonight In Annual Debate

Competing with the University of Vermont, Middlebury's men's debating team will attempt to capture prizes totaling $50 tonight at 8:00 p. m. in Monroe auditorium.

The debaters, Robert E. Reuman, '44; John E. Unterecker, '44, and Charles J. Parker, '46, will take the negative in the Resolved: that the federal government in cooperation with state and local governments should establish and maintain a planned economy after the war.

The money prizes, $25, $15, $10, awarded to the three best debaters participating in the annual debate were established by Edwin W. Lawrence, a graduate of U. V. M., in memory of his father, George W. Lawrence, Middlebury '67.

As one of the best representative debates throughout the country, this will be published in the University Debaters' Annual, a national handbook on debate. This will be the seventh consecutive year that Middlebury has had a publication in the handbook. For the debate there will be two sets of judges, one set to judge the debate itself, and the other to select the three best debaters.

On March 4 there will be a freshman debate with the University of Vermont at Burlington. The debaters, Philip G. Hull, '46, and Norman B. Sweet, '46, will take the negative on a post-war Resolved: that there should be one year of compulsory military service training. A return debate will be held here March 11.

In the near future, the men's team will take part in debates with Clark and Boston Universities, and Tufts College.

On Tuesday, February 16, Jane P. Cline, '45, and Joyce H. Mickey, '46, took the affirmative in a debate with the University of Vermont. The question was world union. In late March or early April there will be a women's debating trip to New York and New Jersey.

Rev. James Walter Will Speak Sunday At Vesper Service

Reverend James E. Walter, district secretary of the Congregational Board of Foreign Missions, will speak at vesper services Sunday, Feb. 28. Reverend Walter is also the home missions secretary working under the American Board of the Congregational Christian Churches.

Her first attended Otterbein College, and then Yale Divinity School where he was ordained in 1933. He now has his church in Orange, Conn.

Upperclassmen may remember Reverend Walter as having spoken at Middlebury last year.

Opportunities In Language Field Offered

Foreign language majors not interested in teaching may discover any of the following occupations to their liking if they possess training outside of mere linguistic ability.

The American foreign service, foreign language press and radio work, and positions as nursery governesses are among the least crowded fields in which languages are of primary importance.

Foreign government service jobs are rare in that most Americans do not possess the necessary degree of skill in the spoken language. Foreign establishments employ their own nationals, many of whom know English well.

Interpreters

Would-be interpreters face the same problem: Courts, hospitals, immigration services, language bureaus, police, stores, travel agencies and war services offer positions, but not to the "ordinary" linguist.

Concerns such as General Electric and Bell Telephone have demands for the technical translators, but translating is otherwise overcrowded, badly paid, or done incidentally by capable persons already in the company's employ.

The FBI offers employment to translators of German, Japanese, Italian and Russian at $2,000 per annum. Requirements include age limits of 23 to 25 years of age, a college degree with a major in languages, or mathematics, physics or astronomy with a language minor. The applicant may have had experience in crypanalysis, cryptography, statistics, preparation of financial charts, chess, puzzles, radio operation and language which will stand him in good stead, if he is without a degree.

FBI Positions

Clerical positions with the FBI stipulate ability to translate at least two languages both ways, a typing speed of 45 words per minute and a shorthand dictation rate of 120 words per minute.

Students at the Foreign Relations school of the Latin American Institute may prepare for any of the following positions, with no need of college work: international executive administrator, foreign administrative secretary, Spanish-English translator, Portuguese-English translator and interpreter, diplomatic consular officer, diplomatic consular secretary, or foreign service clerk.

Bi-lingual stenographers in French and English may get in touch with Civil service authorities in New York or New Jersey.

Panther Pucksters Upset Cadets in Overtime, 11-10

Midd Trailing 9-6 With 3½ Minutes Left; Rally to Win

Trailing Norwich 9 to 6 with three and one-half minutes to go, Midd's hockey team scored three times to tie up the game, and then went on to top the highly-favored Cadets 11 to 10 in an overtime period, playing on the local rink last Thursday. The Panther pucksters started Carnival off successfully and won themselves a tie for the state championship with this victory.

In a fast, exciting third period, which saw a total of ten goals scored, Dave Palmstrom scored twice and Phil Dunham once while Perkins and Whitney were registering for the Horsemen, to make the score 7 to 6 in favor of the visitors with three quarters of the stanza gone. Then Simeone, speedy Cadet sparkplug streaked down the ice twice in two minutes to score goals which gave Norwich a 9 to 6 lead with three and one-half minutes left. Dave Palmstrom came through again at 16:39 on a nice pass from Chunky Gale and it was 9 to 7. At 18:05 Kenny Moore poked one past the Norwich goalie, with Gale getting another assist. Half a minute later the Midd rooters went wild as Chunky dashed in to score unassisted and tie up the game.

Both teams were pressing hard as the ten-minute overtime started, and 54 seconds after the starting whistle Dave Thompson skated up with the puck from his defense post and slipped the puck into the cage on a return pass from Dave Palmstrom. The Panthers concentrated on defense then, trying to protect the one goal lead, but Simeone out-skated Midd's defensemen to score the tying goal at 6:01 of the overtime. The Panthers again put the pressure on, and center Kenny Moore scored the winning goal with seven minutes and sixteen seconds gone, from close in.

Simeone, outstanding all afternoon for his clever puck-handling and skating, put Norwich in the van at 2:40 of the first period assisted by Perkins and Wright. Chunky Gale registered first for Midd at 8:34 on a nice solo flight, going in close and faking the goalie out, then flicking the puck into the open corner. Near the end of the period Moore and Urbin were both out on penalties, but Gale, Palmstrom and Thompson put up a strong defense and didn't give the Horsemen a chance to score. At 19:33, Simeone scored his second goal, with Perkins assisting, to give Norwich a 2 to 1 first period lead.

The pace continued fast and furious in the second chukker, with Norwich drawing first blood as Perkins scored unassisted at 3:45. Captain Chunky Gale, whose excellent pass work and scrap featured the Panther attack, scored his second goal at 11:16, with Kenny Moore getting the assist. Simeone maintained the visitor's two goal lead, scoring 35 seconds later with Wright assisting. Dave Palmstrom was on the scoring end of a pass from Moore at 13:06 to make the score 4 to 3. Collins scored on a penalty shot at 15:20 to complete the scoring for this period. Then came the eventful final stanza.

6 Basketball Teams To Play for Benefit Of Scholarship Fund

Six Middlebury basketball teams,, including the four top-flight women's teams, will show their stuff at the high school gymnasium Saturday afternoon when they play for the benefit of the defense stamp scholarship fund.

At 3:30, after the women have played two 16-minute games, the men's junior varsity will get the chance they've been waiting for all season—to get a whack at the varsity.

The price of admission to the Saturday afternoon activities, which begin at 2:30, will be one 25 cent war-savings stamp.

STEBBINS NABS SECOND PLACE IN 600 METER RACE

Middlebury's Blue and White banners were still flying high in board track circles this week as Dave Stebbins, captain of the Panther track team, turned in a brilliant performance at the New England A. A. U. meet Monday at the Tufts arena. "Steb" ran a beautiful race in the finals of the 600 meter event, placing secon dto Mal Shurtleff of Rhode Island State.

Stebbins was clocked in 1 minute, 21 seconds, in winning his heat of the event. He improved considerably onthis time in the finals as Shurtleff turned in a fast 1.16.8 for the distance. Frank Harris of Boston College placed third in the field of 15 entries.

Hal Parker, the only other Middman entered in the meet, was fourth in his heat of the 600 meter event, and thus was not qualified for the finals.

New Hampshire Wins Carnival Skiing Meet

Wildcats Top Dartmouth, Norwich; Midd Fourth; Johnny Gale First in Downhill Race

Middlebury gained its second triumph of the '43 Carnival by winning the downhill race, first skiing event of the big week-end, held Friday morning on the Chipman Hill run. The Midd skiers nosed out New Hampshire by one point, finishing with 98 points to 97 for the New Hampshire team.

John Gale, Midd captain, breezed across the finish line in 35.2 seconds, over a second faster than Raymond Churchill of New Hampshire who came in second. More points were piled up for New Hampshire by Curt Chase, third skier to cross the line. Larry Tinkham of Norwich finished a close fourth by a margin of one-tenth of a second. Fifth skier to finish and second man for Middlebury was "Tink" Bailey, promising freshman ace.

New Hampshire's championship team really showed its consistent strength in the cross country race held Friday afternoon on a winding eight and a half mile course that started near the Gym, circled the country club, finally finishing at the women's athletic field. The New Hampshire team made a perfect score, easily running away with first, second and third places. Si Dunklee, winner of the event breezed across the finish line with the same seemingly effortless stride that carried him through the entire event. Langlaufers Keough and Merrill furnished an exciting race between themselves, finishing one one-hundreth of a second apart. First man in for Middlebury was Cliff Hendrix who placed tenth.

Slalom

The slalom race, in many respects the most difficult skiing event of the Carnival. was won in brilliant style by Captain Distin of Dartmouth whose skillful running of the trying course was more typical of the Big Green ace than his poor showing in the downhill on Friday. Peck of Norwich squeezed in ahead of Bobo Sheehan to win second place by three-tenths of a second. Sheehan's daring and spectacular first run of the course was spoiled by a fall on the second which eliminated his chances of winning. Captain Gale practically repeated Bobo's performance, by a penalty after completing a speedy and skillful first run. The other Midd men were apparently stymied by the slushy, melting snow and the tricky course set by Coach Hanson. Bailey, Gale and Hendrix finished 16th, 20th and 23rd, in that order.

Jumping

The jumping event, last athletic contest of Winter Carnival, was held under a threatening sky at the Chipman Hill ski jump Saturday afternoon. New Hampshire regaining its customary strength placed jumpers in fourth, fifth, sixth and tenth positions gaining 93.46 points and won over the Dartmouth team which had a score of 92.67. Norwich nosed out Middlebury for third by the narrow margin of two-tenths of a point.

The longest jump of the afternoon was made by Midd's Phil Dunham with a jump of 33 meters. Sawyer of Norwich who jumped 31½ meters placed first, however, due to his stylish and almost perfect form. Bobo Sheehan, whose spectacular jump of 32½ meters, was the second longest of the event came in thirteenth place because of a spill on his second jump. The other Midd men, Hendrix, Bailey and Gale finished eleventh, twelfth and seventeenth, respectively.

Down to work again. Another Winter Carnival come and gone, and nothing but the memories and a few odd pennies left. The high-point of the entire Carnival from a partisan point of view was the Norwich hockey game. The Panthers came through with an amazing upset win over the Cadets. Over at Norwich, the Horsemen swamped Midd 13 to 2, but on the local rink the Blue and White pucksters topped them 11 to 10 in an overtime game.

The first line of Chunky Gale, Dave Palmstrom and Kenny Moore was functioning smoothly and had a lot of fight. Chunky scored three goals, one was the tying goal with less than a minute and a half to go, Chute flipped in four, and Kenny scored two, one the winning goal in the overtime period. Dave Thompson played a whale of a game at defense, checking the fast Norwich forward wall hard and effectively and coming down the ice to score the first counter in the overtime period. Art Pepin, playing his first year of organized hockey, showed a lot of fight at the other defense post and also did his share in breaking up the Cadet attack. Gus Gustafson played a nice game in the nets. He made many nice saves during the afternoon. It was a wonderful game to watch—both teams played hard, fast, clean hockey, and the highly-geared offenses made it interesting. Midd thereby is tied for the state hockey championship.

It is rumored that there was a ski meet, too, last week-end. Whatever the disadvantages of having to eliminate the Breadloaf Snow Bowl as the scene of the races, it made it nice for the spectators. The road between the campus and Chipman was packed all day Friday and Saturday with interested ski enthusiasts. And they weren't disappointed with the skiing, even if the results weren't what we would have liked to have had them. Midd's skiers did all right individually, it was the failure to place enough men up near the top which resulted in Middlebury placing fourth in the meet. Johnny Gale made a nice run to win the downhill, leading the field by a second and a half. Both he and Bobo Sheehan had beautiful runs in their first slalom attempts, but had difficulties on their second runs which proved disastrous. Bobo picked up a third, however. Cliff Hendrix's tenth was Midd's best in the cross-country with Gale in twelfth position—this was the Blue and White's weakest event. Phil Dunham had the longest jump of the afternoon—33 meters—to take a second in the jumping. Phil and Bobo got a nice hand from the crowd when they made a double jump after the competition. The jump wasn't in too good condition because of the thaw, but the Winter Sports Committee did a swell job with the trails throughout the entire meet. Our thanks to Roy Kinsey et al.

More tough luck for the basketball team—Freddie Lapham banged his shoulder up in the Vermont game and couldn't play against St. Michael's. Johnny Cadwell wasn't in shape either due to his arm injury. Ferd Ensinger could play only a couple of minutes—a case of pneumonia laid him up for several weeks. Hitch Hitchner graduated from the JV squad to take over Freddie's forward position. Sounds more like the football team.

ASK THE RANGER FROM DIEPPE
"GOOD SHOW! WE LET THEM HAVE IT"
"NO, THANKS. HAVEN'T YOU GOT A COCA-COLA?"
"That actually happened. And things like that are happening everyday. Ever notice in your newspaper how often Coke is mentioned? Boys write home about it, too. They like the taste that sets Coca-Cola apart. They welcome that feel of refreshment. Coca-Cola must remind them of home a lot. It reminds you to refresh yourself."

Carnival

jump took place Saturday. Outstanding in the jumping was Philip H. Dunham '45 who made the longest jump of the day with 33 meters. There were two pairs of double jumps made after the completion of the meet.

After seven hours of watching the skiing events, the spectators spent the rest of the day dancing. Many of the fraternity houses had tea dances from which everybody went directly to the Klondike Rush.

Klondike Rush

While the Black Panthers played at this dance the formal dancing was intermixed with an elimination dance and also a grand march. When intermission arrived the medals and cups were awarded to the skiers. Prizes for the snow sculptures went to Gold Cane and Delta Upsilon.

Cheers and shouts were given by their committees who made the Carnival such a smoothly run event. Frank Elkins of the New York Times considered this Carnival "certainly one of the finest" Middlebury has ever had.

Snow Sculptures

for their statue of Paul Bunyan carried them to tremendous heights—twenty feet to be exact—and captured for them the cup for the best fraternity sculpture.

Scarcely less ambitious were the Chi Psi's, who won honorable mention with their depiction of a hockey game. They added realism to their effort by flooding the ground in front of the lodge to make a skating rink.

Among the sororities, Gold Cane emerged victorious with their one horse open sleigh, which was ingeniously constructed with icicles for reigns. Kappa Kappa Gamma's "Kool Karnival Guest," a penguin with skis, was awarded honorable mention.

Animal Kingdom

The animal kingdom was well represented this year. Bambi, and his friend Rabbit provided subject matter for the Alpha Xi Delta's. A lion and lioness sat in state on the Deke's front lawn; the Theta Chi's did a winged (accent on the ed) panther, and Sigma Kappa's chose a lamb.

The winter sports theme was carried out by the A. S. P.'s with their skier about to take off from a ski jump, the Sigma Alpha's, who cruelly buried their skier in the snow up to his neck, the Kappa Delta's, who modeled Ken Thayer and Lois Groben in a figure skating routine, and the Tri Delts with their out-sized ski boot.

Life in the WAAC

Some questions and answers of interest to every patriotic college woman

First of all, is the WAAC really needed?

Emphatically yes! Already the President has authorized the Corps to expand from 25,000 to 150,000. The Air Forces and Signal Corps have asked for thousands of WAAC members to help with vital duties. Both Ground Forces and Services of Supply are asking for thousands more. Members of the WAAC may be assigned to duty with the Army anywhere — some are already in Africa and England.

Can the WAAC really help win the war?

The whole idea of the WAAC is to replace trained soldiers needed at the front. If American women pitch in now to help our Army (as women in Britain, Russia and China do), we can hasten Victory — and peace.

What can my college education contribute?

College training is important equipment for many WAAC duties too long to list. Cryptography, drafting, meteorology, laboratory work, Link trainer and glider instructing, for example. If you are a senior you may enroll at once and be placed on inactive duty until the school year ends. See your WAAC faculty adviser for more details.

But can I live comfortably on WAAC pay?

There are few civilian jobs in which you could earn clear income, as WAAC enrolled members do, of $50 to $138 a month — with all equipment from your toothbrush to clothing, food, quarters, medical and dental care provided. WAAC officers earn from $150 to $333.33 a month.

The drilling sounds so strenuous—!

Nonsense! The most beautiful women in America today are the girls in khaki! Some calisthenics and drilling are vital to general good health, discipline and tuned-up reflexes. After a few weeks at Fort Des Moines, Daytona Beach or the new Fort Oglethorpe training center you'll feel better than ever in your life.

Maybe I wouldn't like the work?

People are happiest doing what they do well. Every effort is made to place you where your service will count most toward final Victory. You may have some latent talent that will fill a particular need for work interesting and new to women — such as repairing the famous secret bombsight, rigging parachutes, operating the fascinating new electronic devices — or driving an Army jeep over foreign terrain.

Then I have a chance to learn something new?

Yes, indeed. And the list of WAAC duties grows constantly. The training and experience you get in the WAAC may equip you for many stimulating new careers opening up for women.

What are my chances of promotion?

Excellent. The Corps is expanding rapidly and needs new officers, both commissioned and noncommissioned. Those who join now have the best chances. All new officers now come up through the ranks. If qualified, you may obtain a commission in 12 weeks after beginning basic training.

What is the age range and other requirements?

Very simple. You may join if you are a U. S. citizen, aged 21 to 44, inclusive, at least 5 feet tall and not over 6 feet, in good health — regardless of race, color or creed. But the Army needs you now—don't delay. Total War won't wait!

Linguists needed. If you speak and write Spanish, Portuguese, Chinese, Japanese, Russian, French, German or Italian, see your local Army recruiting office now! You are needed for interpreting, cryptography, communications.
